```

Reason:

Other. The 7.4.e164.arpa pilot service is being de-commissioned, since we are the only users and there's apparently little or no incentive for other telephony service providers to make use of the service.

Plans for e164.arpa:

See above. There has for a number of years been a pilot service available, where we, the Norwegian NREN, has been the only user of the service. The registry cannot justify continue putting resources into running the service, so it is being de-commissioned.

I/We hereby declare that all information provided above is correct. We further declare that we have read the NRENum.net Service Policy

Document, and that we are going to comply with it.
